Where else could this happen?

Somebody somewhere observed that Slap-Happy Sam would be more appropriate symbol for this nation than Uncle Sam, and I think he's right. Careless and destructive as children, we go our way, smashing one another up on the highways, clamoring for a relaxation of game laws so we can shoot, trap and snare our wild birds and animals into extinction, setting fire to our forests.

In what other country would it be necessary for authorities to send out to the newspapers a notice such as The Pine Cone received this week from the State of California, Division of Forestry?

Here it is and I think it is remarkable:

"Fire prevention officials of the State Division of Forestry today cautioned the public of the illegality of possession and use of tracer ammunition on forest and brush covered lands throughout California.

"Recent investigations show large quantities of tracer ammunition in civilian hands, and with a potentially hazardous fire season ahead, State fire prevention officials are extremely anxious to promulgate public understanding of the seriousness of the condition and the necessity for reducing all possible fire causes through the present fire season.

"Relative to the potential fire hazard of tracer ammunition to forest and brush covered lands, a fire prevention law was passed during the 1945 legislative session. This law is Section 4168 of the Public Resources Code and reads: 'No person shall fire or cause to be fired any tracer bullet or tracer charge onto or across any forest or brush covered lands nor shall he have in his possession any tracer bullet or tracer charge on' (Continued on Page 16)

Valley Residents May Take Zoning To Supervisors

The question of zoning in the Carmel Valley and the Robles Del Rio tract continues to be the main topic of discussion in Carmel Valley this week with the result that possible action may be taken by property owners to:

1. Meet with the board of Supervisors (Robles Del Rio residents) to determine whether an amendment could be adopted that would restrict business to certain prescribed areas, but would not bind home owners as to the number of cattle, horses and chickens they might possess.

2. Meet with the Monterey Planning Commission (owners in the section near Los Laureles Grade) on May 27 to ask for an extension of the present interim ordinance, which expires in July in order to give property owners an opportunity for further and complete study of the ordinance as a whole. Copies of the ordinance have been sent residents in the area.

It is explained by Robles Del Rio property owners that the proposed meeting with the supervisors is in no way a criticism of the Planning Commission. The Commission can work only under prescribed regulations and because the majority of owners in the tract (2 to one in a recent postcard poll) feel that the proposed ordinance does not apply to that section either as a residential, business or farming area they intend to confer with the supervisors in the near future as to what action can be taken.

Public Reception For Isaac Stern

Following Isaac Stern's violin concert at Sunset Auditorium Friday evening, May 17, at 8:30, there will be a reception at the Carmel Art Gallery so that the concert goers can meet Mr. Stern and his accompanist, Mr. Alexander Zakin.

Mrs. Mary Solari and Mrs. Virginia Nielsen are in charge of the affair.

POETRY CONTEST WINNERS NEXT WEEK

Finished with reading the hundreds of poems submitted to the Pine Cone poetry contest, the judges have selected the winners and will announce their names next week. At the same time the Pine Cone will mail the checks to the winners.

Miss Dora Hagemeyer, Pine Cone Poetry Editor, who was in charge of the contest, says that the judges are enthusiastic about the quality of the work submitted for this contest, and that the first prize winner's work is equal to the best poetry that is being written in America today.

Laidlaw Williams To Give Bird Talk Monday At Sunset

Laidlaw Williams, Carmel ornithologist, known throughout the country for his research work on Monterey county birds, will speak Monday evening, May 13 at 8 p.m. in the auditorium at Sunset School. His topic will be Adventures in Bird Watching.

This is the talk that Mr. Williams was scheduled to give on March 25 as part of the second Life Science Series of lectures under the chairmanship of F. S. Ruth, Biology Instructor at Pacific Grove High School, and the sponsorship of the Carmel Evening School. Mr. Williams was unable to speak on March 25 due to sudden illness. Mr. Ruth substituted for him with a lecture demonstration on the subject, Birds and Their Attributes.

Mr. Williams is past president of the Monterey Peninsula Audubon Society and is at the present time Ornithologist and technical advisor for the group. He is recognized as an authority on west coast birds. His talk will be illustrated with lantern slides and four motion pictures on birds, Roadrunner versus Rattlesnake, film depicting a battle to the death between a roadrunner and two rattlers; Golden Eagle, in color; Birds of an Inland Lake, Bird Friends. All birds shown will be Monterey County species.

The speaker will demonstrate portions of his talk with bird study skins. Anyone interested in learning more of the bird life in this area is cordially invited to attend. There is no admission charge. These lectures are presented as a public service by the Carmel Evening School, John Westover, Principal.

$10,000 Quota For Peninsula Food Fund Drive

Plans for a peninsula-wide campaign to collect cash contributions for the purchase of food for starving Europe are underway, with Thor Krough of Monterey as general chairman for the drive.

It has been decided to collect sufficient money for the purchase of two carloads of Monterey canned sardines, which is the equivalent of $10,000.

Mayor Fred Godwin will appoint a Carmel chairman for the drive and dates and local campaign headquarters will be announced in the near future.

Pon Locked Out; Catlin-Nilssen Mix Over Notice

Up Ocean Avenue and down Dolores Street Carmel's traditional grapevine was setting off sparks yesterday. "Is it true," this citizen asked that citizen, "that Alf Nilssen has locked Pon Chung out of his house and assaulted John Catlin?"

The Pine Cone checked with Pon Chung's attorney, Dean of Carmel ex-mayors, John, Catlin.

"Yes, he locked Pon out of his house and, technically, he assaulted me," said Catlin.

"Pon came to me Sunday morning almost beside himself with excitement," Catlin added, "He said he had returned from his work to find his house padlocked and a notice on the door. I went to see what the notice said. As I walked up to the house, I was grabbed by the arm and swung around. It was Nilssen. He upbraided me and called me a rascal. I was amazed."

The notice said: "Pon Chung: You can have the key to my house and get your things as soon as you pay me the rent. Alf A. Nilssen, owner."

Alf Nilssen says he never touched Catlin. "I said, get the hell off my property, but I never touched Catlin." He added, "I have lost $250 worth of stock not being able to lock up the place at night because of Pon Chung coming in and out."

Both Catlin and Nilssen say there was a woman present who (Continued on Page Four)

Student Council Raises Question Of Life-Saving

The hoary problem of how to keep people from getting drowned in Carmel bay got its perennial workout when five senior students at Carmel high school sat as city council members in the annual student council meeting Wednesday night.

Clayton Neill, as commissioner of health and safety, brought up the touchy subject when he proposed that there be more numerous and more emphatic signs at the beach warning swimmers not to chance the undertow. The present signs are "too artistic" in his opinion. They blend with the sea and sand in color and do not make sufficient impression on the stranger.

It was suggested that new signs be made, six by four feet in size, and in red and yellow lettering state bluntly that here is a dangerous undertow.

At this point, Bill Gargiulo, among the spectators, came to the rescue of Carmel the Beautiful and pointed out that signs of such size and color might destroy the scenic effect of the beach, whereupon, Student Mayor Bruce Hanger observed "Well, we can't please everybody," quoting Carmel Mayor Fred Gowin, who had made a neat little speech at the opening of the meeting warning the students that, "Anything you do in city government you should weigh carefully to make sure that it is for the good of the community as a whole, and no matter what you do, you are bound to step on somebody's toes."

Mosolf Schedules Practice Games On Sunset Field

The Carmel Pine Cone Softball team, winning its first practice game Tuesday night against the Del Monte Sailors, 5 to 2, showed pitching strength that augurs well for the coming season with the Pacific Grove League.

The visitors were limited to three hits by the Pine Cone pitchers, Ray Gumm, Jay Huffman and Ky Miyamoto, three first string pitchers in any league, and Coach George Mosolf says he has two more pitchers up his sleeve, just in case!

As the Pine Cone went to press last night, the team was warming up for another practice game with the Sailors on Sunset field.

Wednesday night Mosolf, as team manager as well as coach, attended the meeting in Pacific Grove of league team managers, and reported yesterday that the Carmel Pine Cone Softball team is definitely one of the A teams in the league, which is to be made up of six A teams and 6 B teams. League games will open on June 3 or 4. The league schedule provides for one game at P.G. ball park at night starting at 8:15. Four games are scheduled for each week and on the nights on which league games are not played, teams may schedule outside competition.

Meanwhile, the Carmel Pine Cone bunch will be warming up with a schedule of practice games to be played on the Sunset north field at six o'clock in the evening until lights are set up, when the games will start at 7:30.

The Schedule:

Tuesday, May 14, Peninsula Taxi.
Friday, May 17, Live Oak Grocery.

Tuesday, May 21, P.S.E.A. of P.G. & E.

Wednesday, May 22, Moose Lodge.

Friday, May 24, Monterey Legion.

Tuesday, May 28, Rasmussen Sporting Goods.

DECISIVE GAME TODAY

Carmel High School Padres play King City today, Friday, May 10, at the High School, 2:15 p.m., two games. These games will decide the Class B CCAL championship. If either team wins both games, it has an undisputed championship. If either team wins one, it will tie for the flag.

Sports fans, adult as well as hi-age, are planning on driving up the hill to furnish rooster support for the local team.

BREAD

Now the dread bombs are silenced, but the spectre of death
Walks the wrecked fields — and there is no bread.

The grass flares in the sun and the rash flowers
Grow in the tank-wheels where they ground to a stop.

Peace is a bird with a bleeding wing.

Peace has no song for there is no bread.

The children screamed in the night. It was horror enough,

But now they lie starving. The little thin bones

Speak without words. The fever-bright eyes

Search the slow conscience through ten thousand miles.

Famine has fangs more deadly than the sword.

Say to complacency: this guilt is ours.

We have no further plea of time or space.

Speed has dissolved this plausible excuse.

The whole world's misery lies beside our door.

Hunger is now. There is no bread, no bread.

Pain is imperative. The dying cannot wait.

To waste a crust is blood upon our hands.

—DORA HAGEMeyer.

Nostalgic Charm of the Past Pervades All Saints' Old-Costume Fashion Show

By HARRIET KEEN ROBERTS

One of the most charming events of the spring season, which brought back memories of childhood and girlhood to all of those attending, took place in Carmel on May 1 and 2, when the Woman's Auxiliary of All Saints, held a fashion show of yesteryear in the Sunday School room and the parish house.

To Mrs. C. J. Hulsewe goes the credit for the admirable idea of holding just such a show. The funds raised will be used in giving help in rebuilding churches and hospitals in England, Europe, the Far East, the Philippines and this country.

The rooms, decorated for the occasion, had exactly the right atmosphere from the moment we entered the door. Old prints, shawls and curtains, old plates, clocks, candlesticks, an old cradle, a warming pan and dozens of such touches made the two rooms into the homes of long ago. The tables were exquisite with old-fashioned flower arrangements, and the flower girls — Patty Finley, Connie Neilsen, Sandra Lowell and Phyllis Burnette gave nosegays to each guest.

Mrs. Fritz Wurzmans subdued the exquisite artistry of her concert platform technique to the tender or gay songs and waltzes of the past, as did Miss Dorothy Symonds. Mrs. Forrest Williams, Miss Marguerite Nelson, Mr. Carl Bensberg and Mr. Eben Whittlesey, all pupils of Miss Rachel Morton, sang appropriate songs.

Then we were transported, in the twinkling of an eye, to the East; to the Philippines, with Suzita Cecil as model; to Japan with Joan Dekker; to China with Penelope Kerr and little Lloyd Hartzell.

We saw Joan Carr in a magnificent costume of the Czar's court; Gretchen Herron and Marguerite (Continued on Page Seven)

Plans Underway To Bring Trio Here

A large group of Carmel music lovers will recall the enchanting experience of hearing last summer at the home of Mrs. D. L. James at the Highlands the trio composed of Adolph Baller, pianist; Roman Totenberg, violinist; and Garbo Rejito, cellist. They will be delighted to know that there will be an opportunity, probably within the next few weeks, of hearing these great musicians again. A series of chronological concerts is being discussed: three evenings of music ("the music of kings", for that is what chamber music is) featuring compositions of the eighteenth, nineteenth and twentieth centuries, respectively.

There will be a later and detailed announcement about this, but inasmuch as there is joy in anticipation, this word will prepare Pine Cone readers for musical feasts that are in prospect.

Vagabond's Corner Newest Shop At Pine Inn Gardens

Carmel's newest shop is the Vagabond's Corner, situated in Pine Inn Gardens, which will have its opening day tomorrow. Partners in the shop are Richard C. Norris and Walter R. Bruce. The owners will specialize in imported antiques such as Sheffield silver, Continental and English porcelain, prints and odd and unusual costume jewelry.

Mr. Norris served as an officer with the Merchant Marine during the war and several years before that, and during his service has been to every part of the globe. Because of his long experience on the sea, it is only natural that the shop is decorated with a nautical motif.

He came back to his Carmel Highlands home, purchased in 1938, at the end of the war and since then has been making plans for opening the shop.

Paper book matches were invented in 1892 by Joshua Pusey, a Philadelphia lawyer.

Officials Meeting Today To Decide Which USO's Go On

A decision as to which USO Clubs in this district will continue and which will be closed probably will be reached today at a meeting of the Monterey Peninsula U.S.O. Council with San Francisco U.S.O. officials in Monterey.

Mrs. J. W. Stilwell spent last Friday in San Francisco presenting the case for the continuance of the Carmel USO, but the decision as to whether the Carmel USO will be one of the two that will remain in operation in the district had to wait until today's meeting with the Peninsula Council.

PADRES SHUT OUT P.G.

Still smarting under a Gonzales defeat, 12-6, the Carmel Padres nine came back strong to shut out a previously defeated Pacific Grove team, 9-0.

The game was distinctly one-sided, Pacific Grove's Breakers being shut out entirely by Carmel hurler, Ralph Westover, who didn't give the P.G. boys a ghost's chance. They only succeeded in smacking out two hits. Meanwhile the Carmel nine was hard at work, slugging out eight hits from Bob Toole, Grove pitcher. At the end of a runaway first inning, the score stood 5 to 0 in favor of the Carmelites. One more tally was added in the second period and then three more in the sixth. This adds up to two out of three wins for the Padres, P.G. suffering an early defeat at Carmel hands of 9-3.

HOLLISTER INVITATIONAL

Heavily outnumbered, Carmel nevertheless put up a good fight at the Hollister Invitational Re-lays last Friday at Hollister, the heavies placing eleventh; the light-weights finishing tenth. The latter made their best showing in the sprint medley finishing second to the Pacific Grove Team, winners of the meet in the Lightweight division. Dick Gargiulo (100), Joe Goodrich (220), Bud Grady (400), and Bob Berry (880) were the lightweight sprinters who collected the three points for Carmel.

Heavyweights winning a point for Carmel in the distance medley were: Bill Gargiulo (220), Peter Ott (440), Vic Harber (880), and Bill Hodgson (mile).

Results of the meet: Heavyweights, Hollister and Santa Maria tie for first, 22 points; Pacific Grove 18½, Salinas 18, Monterey 13½, Campbell 8, Santa Cruz 6½, Watsonville 6, Gonzales 4, King City 4, San Luis Obispo 2, Carmel 1, Gilroy 1, Santa Clara 0.

Lightweight: Pacific Grove 18, Hollister 16, King City 10, Gonzales 7, Campbell 6, Salinas 6, San Luis Obispo 6, Santa Clara 4, Carmel 3, Watsonville 3, Santa Cruz 1, Monterey 1, Gilroy 0, Santa Maria 0.

WEEK END LINEUP

In addition to the baseball game with King City in Monterey, Friday, 2:15 p.m. (it will decide the Class B CCAL Championship) the Carmel High School Padres have on their schedule this week end the CCAL Track Meet at Hollister, Saturday, May 11, 11 a.m., and the CCAL tennis singles playoff at Monterey, also on Saturday.

Charles Frost's Monterey Junior Legion baseball team goes to Santa Cruz to play Santa Cruz at the high school field at 2 p.m. Frost's bunch is largely Monterey High School, with one representative from Carmel High, Phil Wettengel, who will play second base. Bob Toole has been drafted from Pacific Grove to fill out the lineup. The rest of the squad is made up of the Monterey boys: Tom Incaviglia, Sal Colletto, Tom Perez, Frank Mercurio, John Buceti, Lou Frost, Bart DiMaggio, Tom Russo, Hank Kuwatani, Richard Lee.

By F. SHEA HUNT, MORSE, WIN RAIN-CHECK

Harry C. Hunt and John Morse were the winners of the weekly rain-check golf tournament at Cypress Point last Saturday, finishing 6 up in the match-play-against-par affair. Hunt, with a handicap of 14, scored 88, while Morse, 17 handicap, grossed 84. In second place were Frank T.

Harris In City For Priorities On Science Room

Superintendent Leo Harris was in San Francisco this week trying to arrange for priorities so that a science room could be added to the science wing at the high school during the summer vacation.

The school board authorized the expenditure of $20,000 for the building of the room at a meeting held Thursday night last week following a tour of both Sunset and the High School and an abalone dinner at the high school.

Other business of the meeting was the acceptance of the resignations of Donna Mae Berry, girls' physical education teacher, and Al-

Hefflefinger and Paul Pigott, 5 up, while Harrison Godwin and William Hudson wound up third, 3 up.

Among the contestants in the tournament, was Prince Poniapowski, who came here from Paris. He and his partner, Dr. Charles Crocker, were 2 up.

Other players were: S. F. B. Morse and William Hudson, 1 up; Mrs. R. B. Slaughter and Mr. H. J. Douglass, even; Miss Shephard and Edward Fitzgerald, 1 down; Mrs. Jane Hunt and Stuart Haldorn, 4 down; Mrs. Frances Elkins and C. M. Daniels, 5 down; J. A. McCone and P. Weherhause, no return.

In case any reader becomes confused over the mention of William Hudson twice, both as the partner of Mr. Morse and Mr. Godwin, it should be mentioned that it is the policy of the tournament that, in threesomes, the man with the highest handicap is given two partners, and acts the part of two persons in the match.

Karen von Meier Wins Prize In District Contest

Karen von Meier, winner of the Carmel American Legion Auxiliary Essay contest, has been awarded third prize in the American Legion Auxiliary District Contest.

In a letter to Karen, a student in Mrs. Uzzell's Fifth grade, at Sunset, Mrs. William Raymond Moore, Americanism Chairman, Carmel Unit, American Legion Auxiliary, says:

The Carmel Unit of the Auxiliary is very happy over this. We are proud of you and also proud that one of Sunset's students wrote a winning essay.

The District which awarded you this honor is made up of many groups: San Jose, Palo Alto, Mountain View, Salinas, Monterey, King City, Santa Cruz, and other places, so you can see that a large number of girls and boys sent in their essays. You had the right thought about what freedom really means in your essay, and I guess that is what made you a winner. We hope that you will always keep these ideals in your mind as you go on through your school work, and sincerely trust that you will submit another essay in next year's contest."

George Boulter was the other local winner. Both winning essays were published in full in the School Issue of the Carmel Pine Cone.

"NOW IS THE TIME . . ."

Excitement in the approaching primaries is practically white hot in the east side of the county. According to Fred Moore, one of the six candidates for Sheriff, there was a political rally in the Alisal District last week, attended by 26 candidates and 25 voters.

Pon Locked Out; Catlin-Nilssen Mix Over Notice

could serve as witness, but neither know who she is or how to get in touch with her.

The Who Owns Pon Chung's house is an argument of many months' duration, which finally reached Judge Ray Baugh's court two months ago, where, apparently, it bogged down.

Nilssen claims that last fall when he bought the lot on the east side of San Carlos near Seventh, the house Pon Chung occupied at the time was included in the deal. Pon believes that the original owners of the property gave him the house, which he has lived in for twenty-three years. Nilssen, setting himself up in the nursery business on the lot, tried both to collect back rent from Pon and to get him evicted. Ex-mayor Catlin, who is an attorney by profession, undertook Pon's defense gratis, for Pon is well beloved as one of Carmel's early settlers and colorful personalities, as, indeed, is Ex-mayor Catlin, himself.

Nilssen retained Charles P. McHarry to represent him and there was a great filing of complaints and answers, and cross complaints in Judge Ray Baugh's justice court in Monterey. Meanwhile, Pon lived on in the house he claims is his, ready at all times, Catlin avers, to pay rental for the land the house occupies, or to move the house off the land, but not to pay rent for the house or surrender ownership of same.

A month ago McHarry ceased to be Nilssen's attorney, "by mutual consent" according to McHarry. What the status of the case is in court at the present moment is uncertain. Catlin is of the opinion that "Nilssen's case in court is blown sky high since he has taken upon himself to act."

At any rate, Pon is now out of house and home, sleeping at the American Legion, where he sweeps and washes windows.

Meanwhile, if possession is nine points of the law, the present status of the Pon Chung case leaves Pon with only one point with which to console him.

of the Valley on the Carmel side of Los Laureles grade, headed by Robert Stanton, are said to be investigating the possibilities of zoning that area, which heretofore has not been included in the zoning plan. ### CLEANUP AND HOT DOGS

School will be out at 1 p.m. on Wednesday at Carmel High School but nobody will be going home. On the contrary, all hands will turn out to pick up trash, hoe up weeds, wash marked up walls and in general, tidy up Carmel high school grounds and buildings.

Then at 3:00 o'clock the workers sit down to eat hot dogs and to watch the faculty play softball with the intermural all-stars.

U. S. O. NOTES...

By JIM COOKE

Many Carmel people have sons, brothers and fathers in the Philippines and they will be happy to learn that the USO moved in only eight months ago and since has succeeded in establishing six clubs in the Manila area and four at Batangas. Four more are almost ready to open. In the past two months a million and a half men made use of the USO Philippine clubs. Half a million passed through on their way back to the United States.

Edith Marie Fonteneau has lived in Carmel a long time. She sang for many floor shows and played the piano for group singing for five years at the Carmel USO. A hostess, who with her mother and sister, has given many hours as volunteer. She met Ray D. Benson five years ago at the Carmel USO. Ray went overseas, but letters went back and forth, now they are Mr. and Mrs. Ray Benson and they are making their home here. Ray is working in the Carmel Post Office.

The M/C Bob Crowley, down from Camp Stoneman last Saturday night, was conspicuous by his absence, for when the spotlight was turned on, no one was visible on the Carousel stage. Finally, a voice behind the curtain started the ball rolling. The face (Stanley Fryszynski) and the body (Dick Stoll) collectively pantomimed to the unseen voice (Bob Crowley). This was done in the style of Danny Kaye. When Dick did Old MacDonald Had A Farm, it was an instant success with the audience. Thus proving his versatility, Dick Stoll did a number called They're Either Too Young Or Too Old, mimicking radio's Hildegard. His only stage prop was a green tablecloth, which he used coquettishly as he draped himself over the baby grand.

A round of applause greeted the magician, Stewart Wiley, as he returned to the Carmel USO. This was his second return from the South Pacific. The first time he wore a Purple Heart, but, this time he returned as a civilian from a USO overseas traveling show. His fingers have lost none of their dexterity, for his feats of magic still left the crowd completely baffled.

For the Song Slide Singing and the incidental music for the acts, Peggy Aitkenhead presided at the piano.

Many of the service men present Saturday night had come from long distances. The fact that they were transferred from Fort Ord or Del Mone Radio school doesn't keep them from spending their week ends here.

Sunset School News

Mrs. Duygou's Second Grade

My father and I left early in the morning on Wednesday. We went very fast — about 60 miles an hour — and then we got to the Carmel Valley. We went to the place where the ripples were, where my father and I built the rock bridge last year.

I walked across the bridge and went to where I saw a man fishing. There was a very swift current. I fished there for about 15 or 20 minutes. Then I went to the top of the big bridge. I went down under the bridge. My bait jar fell in and a man waded in to get it for me. I fished there for 15 or 20 minutes. When I tried to cross on a rock the current swept me in and that was the first time I fell in. I fell in two more times. I dropped my pole the last time, and my father had to help me find it. My father said that the rabbit's foot I had to bring me luck must be a left foot and that's why the day was so bad. —John Thompson.

My daddy started on May 1st and he is going on a boat to try to get some fish. He's going to try to get some sole fish. He'll go all around Monterey Bay. —Bonnie Wager.

One day I went to the beach and found five abalone shells. I wanted to keep them but mother wouldn't let me. I said "Please mommie, let me keep them." And she said, "No, they are too big".

I went the next day with my next door neighbor and she let me keep them at her house. And that's how I fooled my mommie. —Sharon Addlestone.

We were going to the Pinacles. There were big boulders all around. One of the big boulders fell down right by us. I felt sort of afraid! —Robin Hill.

Mrs. Lockwood's Third Grade.

I came to Carmel on April 18. We are going to live here. I like it here. I like to play basketball. I like to swim, too.

—John Wilkenson.

Yesterday, Bonny Lynn, Red-head and I made a puppet show. Bonny Lynn made curtains for it. We put strings on our little dolls for the puppets. We gave a show for our parents. My mother surprised us by having refreshments. —Diane Thorne.

We are going to have a carnival on May 24. The third grades are making chop sticks to sell. We are going to put flowers on cheese glasses. We hope people buy them. —Tommy Petty.

On May first I went up to Robles Del Rio on the bus. I went out in the morning and came back in the evening. I caught four fish. —Bobby Bryant.

My brother De Witt gave me a coaster for Easter. I have gone down many steep hills with it. A few days ago I got a scooter. My cousin went down a hill on my coaster and I went on my scooter. We had a wreck. Then we went down another hill and I fell in a gutter. —Gary Appleton.

My father is going to Camp Beale to be discharged. My mother and I are going to San Jose on Saturday. We will come home Sunday. I have a little dog in San Jose and I will see him. —Patricia Gregory.

Varied Program Planned For Last P.T.A. Meet Tues.

The last meeting for this year of the Carmel Parent Teacher's Association on May 14 marks the twentieth anniversary of the organization. It will be held at 3 p.m. in the Sunset School lunchroom.

Highlighting the past history of Carmel's P.T.A. will be talks by Mrs. Joseph Schoeninger, the first president, and Miss Clara Kellogg, the tenth. Lastly, Mrs. Alice Rigdon will tell of the plans for the future.

Dr. Virginia Cobb, newly arrived pediatrician from Tucson, Arizona, will be the guest speaker. Her discussion subject will be, Psychological Problems of the Younger Child. She is a graduate of Columbia University.

There will be a report from Coach George Mosolf concerning the summer recreation program. Election of officers for next year will be held. Refreshments will not be served because the P.T.A. feels it would be unwise to do so during the food emergency.

Decorating the lunchroom walls will be art contributions from the various classrooms, while the musical program will be made up of the same numbers that were presented in the San Jose Music Festival last week by the Carmel High School students.

—Bee Martin.

Old-Costume Fashion Show

Herron in the colorful frocks of Russia and Hungary; Barbara Timmins in the red embroidery of the Croatian peasant girl; Pamela Dormody in the strange headdress and costume of the Indians of southernmost Mexico.

Marcia Kuster modeled a severe brown plaid silk with all the quiet demeanor of a child of 100 years ago on her way to church; Sylvia Thorne wore a gown which belonged to Miss Maria Hunt, great-aunt of Mrs. John Straker; Runelle Karns was exquisite in a green taffeta dress, lined with linen and edged with velvet ruffles, and she carried a New England mother-of-pearl card case.

In the older group, Mrs. Nixon wore an outfit of the 1870's, family treasures, and received the ovation she deserved for she walked on a broken ankle, still in its plaster cast. Miss Dutton wore, with charm and dignity, first a plum-colored and next a gold taffeta, both with the bustles of the '80's, gowns which had belonged to Miss Lydia Weld's mother.

Suzita Cecil wore a little flowered print which was the best frock of a young girl in 1859, who had only an ox-drawn covered wagon for her home. Pamela Dormody looked enchanting in a basque and long skirt of the '70's, and Runelle Karns modeled a white organdy, with ruffle after ruffle of that odd greenish-blue that we never seem to see nowadays.

The two most historic gowns, perhaps, were a magnificent white taffeta creation, its long train decorated with much silver embroidery and Chantilly lace, made in Paris in 1870 by Worth, for Emily Melville, the grandmother of Mrs. Maraquita Brey. Miss Melville was in the original company which brought the Gilbert and Sullivan operas to the old California Street Theatre in San Francisco, where her name can still be seen on a plaque. Now it was worn with distinction by Mrs. Oliver Hartzell, nee Charlotte Kerr. The other was a black velvet gown, with a long black lace mantilla, worn now by Penelope Kerr, but originally by Mrs. Johnson, at the first Inauguration of President Grover Cleveland. Mrs. Johnson was born Estefana Alvarado, niece of Pio Pico, the last Mexican Governor of California. It was lent by Mrs. Mary Greene, curator of the Monterey Museum.

describing all of the charming and beautiful costumes of the afternoon. Others, besides those mentioned, who added grace to the afternoons by modeling the gowns were Sue Dekker, Patricia Kerr, Patricia Bacon, Carol Walker, Marguerite Brown, and Barbara May.

The show was made possible by the kindness of more than 30 ladies who loaned their treasures to Mrs. D. MacMillan Kerr and her committee, whose months of labor were rewarded, we hope, by the enjoyment they gave.

Average Cut in Cost of Natural Gas 33%

Average Cut in Cost of Electricity 16%

since 1939

Today, almost everything you buy for your home costs more. The one important exception is the gas and electric service which does so much of your housework and supplies light and heat as needed. While average living costs have risen 35 per cent and more, the cost of BOTH gas and electricity has gone DOWN despite wartime conditions. Today, P. G. and E.'s gas and electric rates, long among the lowest in the entire country, are lower than ever before. The average cost of natural gas for domestic use, has dropped 33 per cent since 1939 and the cost of electricity for home use has gone down 16 per cent. Rate reductions in the past year alone represent annual savings to customers of $7,490,000.

Our rates have been cut in the face of the soaring cost of providing gas and electric service...service that is unfailing and adequate. In 1945, provision for taxes amounted to thirty cents of every dollar of our revenue, yet the average P. G. and E. bill for gas and electric service in San Francisco, for example, was lowest among fifty-one principal cities...including those subsidized by government and tax-exempt...in the United States.

Have You Read . . . ?

BY EDWARD O. SISSON

A review of Eugen Rosenstock-Huessy: Out of Revolution. 795 pp., Morrow, 1938, and by the same author, The Christian Future. 248 pp. Scribners, 1946.

Either one of these two books is far too big for any ordinary "review". Nor can I tell the reader what is the gist or essence or substance of either the huge one, with its many hundreds of pages, crammed with history for the last two "millenniums", or the smaller one, with its challenging declarations on the immediate present state and prospective fate of mankind. But I can say that both are literally exciting; almost for a week they have most perniciously interfered with my plain duty in the preparation of lectures for my regular college courses, and are like to crowd out some of the standard content in favor of some of the startling propositions put forth in these very non-standard books.

Two modes of treatment mark this writer's work: first, he invites us to look at history, at everyday things, "with astonishment, in spite of the general indifference." And he constantly succeeds in filling the reader with astonishment, too. For example, Charles II, instead of being traitor to English liberty and so justly beheaded, turns out to be a martyr to the deep true spirit of liberty! (Out of Revolution, pp. 317ff.) Certainly the present reviewer, born into the tradition of English non-conformity and bred in America freedom, was astonished by this new slant; but Rosenstock-Huessy makes out a case, nevertheless.

The other method is working back from the Now to the Then; from the present to the past. "From Lenin to Luther", the first revolution he looks at is the Russian in 1917; the next the French in 1789; the next the English in, say 1649; and then the German in 1517, with Luther nailing his theses up in Wittenberg. This is a stupendous doctrine of Time: our schools have dinned in our ears that we cannot understand the present unless we know the past, and so . . . study history! This man retorts, You cannot understand the past except by grace of the future; therefore study "prophecy"! Mechanically, the past may "explain" the present; spiritually, only the future can bestow any meaning upon the past. Take an acorn, dissect it, put it under the microscope, subject it to chemical analysis, when you have done all this, the acorn is more completely and abundantly mysterious than it was at the start. Put it into the ground, and the oak, in its own majestic leisure, will illuminate the otherwise meaningless acorn. (The figure is my own; R-H might reject it.)

The smaller book, just off the press, The Christian Future, subtitle The Modern Mind Out-run, again fixes attention on the future; . . . by considering a future which differs from the past in quality" (P. 32.) The central astonishment of this book is the bold assertion that Jesus is the center of history; the passage is characteristic of the author:

"Because he was the first to turn mankind's direction toward unity, Jesus is the center of history. He is Alpha and Omega, beginning and end: all past and all future meet in him. He was not merely prophet of things to come, like John the Baptist. Neither was he an idealist, like Plato. He was the first 'final' man, the first who lived from the end of time back into his own age." (P. 67)

Now this astonishing utterance is not made by some ignoramus nor by a mere fanatic; the author is a very learned man, a professor in one of our most famous colleges, former leader of the Youth Movement under the Weimar Republic, a veteran of the First World War, and in particular, the possessor of an enormous treasure of knowledge of history, and this statement is about history.

Now I think the main trouble with this small book is that it is too small for its stupendous

LAND'S END (Point Lobos, California)

*Here rage the furies that have shaped the world,
Here where a beaked old headland splits the sea
And white Niagaras of the surf are hurled
In crashing enmity*

*Against the rocks' worn giant filigree.
Above the thunder where the wave and shore
Merge and re-merge in fountain-bursts of spray,
The weird continual half-yelping roar
Of congregated seals rings out all day
From islets wet and gray.*

*And pelicans in heavy lines flap by,
And gulls skim low beneath the precipice,
And hunchback cypresses, limb-twisted, lie
On the blunt slope and in the hoarse abyss,
And here and there a skeleton tree that stares,
Like agony petrified, with ashen bole
And boughs, where life with all her struggles and cares
Incarnates her writhing soul.*

*Step to the gnarled cliff-edge; some Siren power
Will urge you, pull you doomward . . . down and down
There where in turquoise pools the kelp lies brown,
And where tall rollers charge in shower on shower
Of fierce erupting white, and the salt cascade
Drenching the misty shoals, and waterfalls
Replenished with every breaker, look on walls
Of inlets paved with jade.
Wild as the earth's beginning! Lone and grand
This universe of reef and cave and foam,
As when scale-armored dragons clawed the sand
And the fish-lizard made the brine its home!
Hear! In each billow clamoring at the rock
Voices of Masters throned aloof from man,
Lords of the deep for whom the great world-clock
Ticks not in years, but by a Cyclops' span
Of epochs and of eons. Hear the moan
Of time that stretches out to timelessness,
And power that trumpets of the shock and stress
Of planets forged in wars of storm and stone!*

*Ranging the headland's verge,
For but an hour I come, a transient thing,
Yet from this tumult and this beat and surge
Of elemental frenzies I shall bring Back to the soberer world a brooding sense
Of some fresh wonder and magnificence,
The overtones of some age-hallowed glory,
When on this furrowed cypress promontory
Gods speak in the torn waves' droning eloquence.*

Days Before Yesterday

BY PARKER KIMBALL

Thirty years ago this week, when Carmel was still a seedling community sprouting amid pines and cypress, and the Carmel Pine Cone was a yearling, an individual named World Citizen Jim walked in this office to pay his respects to the editor, W. L. Overstreet.

Jim was highlighting his barefoot tour of the world by a short stopover in Carmel. He had just wandered in from a stroll across the continent after having covered an estimated 100,000 miles barefooted since departing his native Switzerland.

The real name of the traveler was James Luhn Lonefeather. His father, a Sioux Indian, and his mother, a Swiss, met in St. Louis while appearing in a circus. His livelihood came from his own pressagentry glorifying his famous feet, augmented by a bit of wandering minstrelty in the form of song and dance routines. He was probably the world's first and foremost walkathoner. At any rate, he walked miles out of his way to see this place he'd heard about.

Scanning of later issues of the Pine Cone of 1916, failed to reveal whether Jim, like everyone else, decided to return to live in Carmel. Had he read the want ads of that day, he would have found a four-room cottage on Casanova and Tenth renting for $15 per month, or, for sale or rent, a substantial, well-furnished cottage ten minutes walk from the beach — sale price, $1600; Rent $25. Another house and lot, with barn on a lot 100x100, having been advertised in several preceding issues, was going begging for $1000.

Had Jim then decided to settle down and take a load off his arches for good he could have picked up for a $100—a mere song and dance—"bay mare, kind, gentle, for gentleman or lady to drive, also fine in saddle." Thrown in on the deal was a rubber tired buggy, harness, robe, and whip. On the other hand, he need not have gone to that expense, for a new Auto Bus Service, taking in 17-Mile Drive and all other points of interest, this same week initiated four regular trips per day between Carmel and Monterey. Un-scheduled tours could be arranged at the Candy Store, or Gould's Garage. Soon there was to be a shortcut to Monterey, for all formalities had just been ironed out and work was commencing on the new Carmel-Monterey highway. The contract was awarded that week to W. A. Dontonville whose bid was $22,923.10.

Perhaps the Forest Theatre group or the Western Drama Society could have fitted Jim and his feet somewhere into their active schedules. The Forest Theatre's annual play was coming up soon, along with Romeo and Juliet and A Winter's Tale by the Western Drama group. Included was an Interpretive Dance Program announced by Miss Sadie Van Brower and Miss Jeannette Hoagland.

Carmel, the day Jim walked in, was not so different basically, from the way you find it today. The 1916 campaign to raise money for a victrola for the local school has become a fund to buy the volunteer firemen a radio and phonograph player. Carmel roads, re-zonings, and elections were then; as now, front-page news. While the percentage of Carmel's artist population has dropped with the influx of outsiders, its interest in their work as Carmel's own products has not decreased. New residents have fallen into Carmel's ways. In 1916, however, the town was much smaller and there was even more of the personal touch to every event. The Pine Cone's reporting reflected it.

The week that Jim breezed in, the Manzanita Club breezed out to Lobos for the day. Quoth the Pine Cone, "Carmel's leading social organization, the Manzanita Club, the membership of which is made up of business men, mechanics, professional men, artists, and others, has again made good its reputation for doing things right."

"Bright and early Sunday morning the club theme; and I am not sure that the 800 page Out of Revolution isn't too big. True, the smaller book does stand on its own feet, and it is not necessary to read the other first. Indeed, I suspect R-H's own principle holds here, that the later book "explains" the earlier.

My chief trouble with this smaller book, and in less measure with the larger, is difficulty in discerning between history and mysticism: of what R-H writes sounds mystic, as indeed the above sample does. But I am by no means sure that he means any mysticism, but intends always to be logical. Even when he goes a step further and tells us that "Belief in an end of the world, or 'eschatology', is thus the very essence of Christianity" (P. 69), and again that urges the doctrine of the 'resurrection of the body' (P. 108), still the way is left open for a realistic interpretation, lying within the normal limits of experience and history. Thus the book, as it stands, has appeal both to the devout mystic and to the rationalist. The main point is that it challenges both.

Of both books it can be said that there is hardly a dull page. The style sparkles with pungent phrases: "We must wage war against the throwers of wet blankets"; "This modern man strikes me as the queerest combination of the best-informed and the most surprised human being"; "We have to love the world because it is always at its wits' end"; of the family, — its "colorful folly", and its "unquenchable illogicality" ... perturb "good people with abstract blueprints." (These are from the smaller book.) And this review may well close with the eloquent end sentence of Out of Revolution: "And a man writes a book, even as he stretches out his hand, so that he may find that he is not alone in the survival of humankind."

members and their families assembled on Ocean Avenue, and in response to the committeemen's 'All aboard!', climbed into automobiles and tallyhos provided for the occasion. Accompanied by several private vehicles, the entire party, numbering about seventy, proceeded to Point Lobos for a day's outing.

"It was an outing long to be remembered and for many reasons. Here are some of them: Every man, and woman and child had enough to eat. It didn't cost anyone a cent for anything. Everyone had a seat going and coming. Not an accident occurred to mar the pleasure of anyone. Several baseball stars of the feminine gender were discovered. It was the best get-together affair Carmel folks ever had."

Today's Carmelites still get together and go places, even if the shortening of distances means that an outing to Lobos is no longer commonly an event to be recorded. The scenery is still there, and each week eulogies still pour in to the Pine Cone office in the form of poems, sketches, and testimonials from people who have left and want to return.

Owens-Kelsey Engagement

Friends of Mr. James Kelsey were congratulating him this week on his engagement to Miss Frances Owens of Monterey, daughter of the late C. L. Owens, and Mrs. Owens of Fresno. Miss Owens came to Monterey with her parents from Anderson, South Carolina, in 1942 and graduated from Monterey High School the same year.

Jim is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Kelsey and the grandson of Mrs. Edna Kelsey, Carmel residents for many years. His sister, Mrs. Fred Antrim, was recently married in Pekin, Illinois. He attended Sunset, graduated from Carmel High School in 1942, and served three years in the Navy, twenty-seven months overseas.

Miss Owens' mother, two brothers and sister, all of Fresno, are planning to be here on July 14, the date set for the wedding, to be performed in one of the Carmel churches.

Montgomery Cocktail Party

Carmel friends of Mr. and Mrs. John Montgomery, who have recently sold their home at Carmelo and Ocean, were invited to a cocktail party this week. The Montgomerys are leaving for the south for an extended visit with friends there. Mrs. Montgomery, who was, as usual, a delightful hostess, entertained:

Dr. and Mrs. John Gratiot, Dr. and Mrs. Ridgeley Parker; Messrs. and Mesdames: Charles Berkey, Pat McGraw, Ted Enosh, Frank Murphy, Henry Creatan, Darrell Ingraham, Charles La Prellie, George Fortier, William Ball, Anthony Marino; Mrs. Virginia Poe De Lue, Mrs. George Marion, Mrs. Josephine Duffee, Mrs. Ruth Marion McElroy, Mrs. Marie Barnett, Mrs. Anna Kruse, Mrs. Frances Van DeVort, Mrs. Juliette Dika, Mrs. Mona Coolidge; J. Hampton Hoge, George Willcox, Richard Hagopian, Mr. Frederick and Mrs. Van Addler and son.

Democratic Women Meet

"Will Rogers, Jr. is a howling success," Miss Ann Millis reported with youthful enthusiasm to the Carmel Women's Democratic Club last Friday, describing a Democratic Primaries dinner, complete with brass band, which she had attended in Salinas. "He has much of his famous father's ingenuous charm and humor."

"Mr. Rogers' experience as newspaper publisher, foreign correspondent and Congressman should be of value to him in the Senate," Miss Millis continued. "His earnest desire to 'break down the walls between nations', his determination that 'there must be no more war' leads me to hope that he will be our next Senator from California."

Mrs. H. W. Stuart added some illuminating facts on the Wagner-Murray-Dingle Bill and Mr. Edmond Sullivan and Miss Agnes Shand reported on the activities of the Monterey Democratic Primaries Committee.

Wayfarer Auxiliary

A delightful musical program entertained the members of the Women's Auxiliary of the Church of the Wayfarer at the closing meeting of the year in the social rooms of the church on Tuesday afternoon, culminating in a social tea in honor of the new members. Mrs. Fenton Grigsby, president, conducted the meeting, and Mrs. Grace Howden, program chairman, arranged the entertainment. Mrs. Ada Magee gave the devotions for the day. The program follows:

Violin solos by Mrs. Alberta Metcalf, with Miss Eleanor Chamberlain, accompanist: La Gitana, by Fritz Kreisler; From the Canbrake, (Negro dance), by Samuel Gardner; encore, The Old Refrain, by Kreisler. Baritone solo by Warren White, a newcomer to Carmel, with Mrs. Evelyn Nidever Hildebrand as accompanist: Ave Maria, by Mascagni, adapted from the Intermezzo of Cavaleria Rusticana; When I was a Page to the Duke of Norfolk, by Verdi; To You, by Richard Strauss; encore, Dedication by Franz. Cello solos by Miss Beth Falkenberg, with Mrs. Hildebrand as accompanist: Arioso, by Bach; Intermezzo from Concerto Grosso in B Minor, by Vivaldi; Lamento and La Cinquantine by Gabriel-Marie; encore, Solveig's Song, by Grieg. The members found the afternoon a very enjoyable climax to a year of outstanding programs arranged by Mrs. Howden.

The day's activities began with making of bandages for lepers by a faithful group that met at 10:30, who were joined by other members at 12:30 for a box lunch, followed by the business meeting. Plans for the annual supper of the Church League next Monday evening were announced, with members bringing salad or scalloped potatoes the main dish and dessert being furnished under direction of the committee headed by Mrs. B. A. Taylor. The treasurer reported $22.31 on hand, and part of this was contributed to the fund for supporting an adult leper in an institution maintained by the American Mission to Lepers.

The North Circle and the South Circle each has voted to take a membership in the American Bible Society, and interested members at Tuesday's meeting contributed money to pay for forty Bibles for the Japanese, who are asking for a million or more of the books this year.

Election of officers resulted in Mrs. Tom Douglas as president; Mrs. Louis Sawyer, vice-president; Mrs. Leo Harris, secretary-treasurer. Committee chairmen announced by Mrs. Douglas are Mrs. Howden, program; Mrs. Charlotte Morgan, devotions; Mrs. Edith Catlin, leper work; Miss Etta Paul, refreshments; Mrs. Durbin Sayers, church dinner; Mrs. Grigsby and Miss L. Lucile Turner, missionary activities; publicity, Miss Turner; pianist, Miss Agnes Williston.

Visit Parents

Beans, Steak, Music

The Lions Club's beans and steak feed at the Murphy Ranch Tuesday night was enlivened by a musical program furnished by Martin Artellan, accordion; Lew Kramer, saxophone, Septimo Lucido, trumpet.

Gertrude Stein Next

Last Tuesday evening Mrs. Glenn Clairmonte's class in current literature held a discussion on the short stories written by James Joyce in his youth and also the short stories written more recently by that other Irisman, Frank O'Connor. This same group next Tuesday evening, at 7:30 in Room 11 of Sunset School, will discuss the writings of Gertrude Stein, with special attention to her characterizations.

Last evening, at the regular Thursday evening meeting of the course in Writers and Writing, Mrs. Clairmonte gave a talk on the best rules to follow in the writing of narratives without sacrificing individuality, and gave examples of the correct and incorrect way to handle plot in short-short stories.

At both of these classes of the Carmel Adult School not only writers but also book lovers generally are welcome to partake in the discussion.

Miss Turner Delegate

Delegate to the state convention in Long Beach next week from the Monterey Peninsula Branch of the American Association of University Women is Miss L. Lucile Turner. The executive board of the organization made the appointment last week. Miss Turner will report convention activities to the local group at the annual breakfast on May 26.

She will stay in Los Angeles for the week end and attend the state convention of the League of Women Voters May 21 to 23. Mrs. Fenton Grigsby, president of the Monterey Peninsula L. V. W., expects to go down on May 20 to attend the convention.

Doris Evans Weds

Doris Evans, daughter of Mrs. Emma Evans of Carmel and of the late Arthur Dale Evans, was married last Saturday afternoon at a 4 o'clock ceremony at Carmel Mission to Lt. Col. Benjamin B. Kercheval.

The bride and groom met in the summer of 1941 when Col. Kercheval was stationed at Fort Ord, and their engagement was announced before the groom left for overseas assignment more than two years ago. A graduate of West Point with the class of 1941, Col. Kercheval returned to this country from Yokohama two weeks ago.

The bride is a graduate of Carmel schools, and is a talented music student. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kercheval of Couer d'Alene, Idaho.

Returning to Pasadena

Mrs. Eleanor Minton James and her daughter, Elizabeth Houghton, left for Pasadena Tuesday after a visit here with Dr. and Mrs. George Taylor, Mrs. James' parents, and her sister, Mrs. Chester Hare. Mrs. James is planning on returning to Carmel in June to accompany Mrs. Hare to the Montezuma graduation exercises, when Mrs. Hare's son, Rickey Masten, as president of the Junior Class will participate in the traditional torch ceremonies.

Botanizing Trip

A post card from Jeannette Parkes from Portland, Oregon, reveals that she and Mrs. Lester Rowntree are well on their way to Canada on Mrs. Rowntree's botanizing trip.

Church Women

Mrs. Ramsey Benson of Carmel was elected president of the Monterey Peninsula Council of Church Women at the annual meeting at the Mayflower Congregational Church in Pacific Grove last Friday. The business was conducted by the retiring president, Mrs. John W. Dickinson at the close of the May breakfast which was served at eleven o'clock with a large membership attending. Other officers chosen are first vice-president, Mrs. Lena Landis; second vice-president, Mrs. J. Alvin Crawford; recording secretary, Mrs. Loren Smith; Treasurer, Miss Elizabeth Merrill. Mrs. Irene Warren, who was not present at the meeting, will be asked to serve as corresponding secretary.

The new president appointed Mrs. Grace Howden as music chairman; Mrs. D. E. Nixon of Carmel and Mrs. Leola Marshall of Pacific Grove as hospitality committee, and Miss L. Lucile Turner as publicity chairman. The next meeting, the first Friday in September, will be held at the Church of the Wayfarer with the women of All Saints' Church in charge of the program. Mrs. Dickinson gave a review of the year's activities and reminded the group of the project suggested in February that the Council undertake the establishment of an Eventide Home on the Peninsula for elderly pensioners, expressing the belief that financing can be obtained for such an institution. An offering for the American Mission to Lepers was taken at the table.

The afternoon meeting in the sanctuary was opened with Mrs. Marshall leading the devotions in the ritual prepared by the national United Council of Church Women, followed by two inspiring solos by Mr. Warren White, with Miss Beth Falkenberg as accompanist. Speaker of the afternoon, R. Ellis Roberts, author, lecturer, and radio speaker, discussed the importance of the home in religious education, quoting the Jesuit, Father Braun, regarding the revival of church services in Russia after two decades of suppression by the Soviet government: "Russia's homes kept the church alive in the hearts of the people. Though this is the age of machines and the age of the atom, these are not the essential things of life, for spiritual life is the real force, and spiritual life is planted and nourished in the home. 'The home must be the church and the church must be the home.'"

Tour Peninsula

A group of women who studied at San Jose State College prior to taking their examinations for citizenship papers were brought to Carmel and the Peninsula last Friday on a bus to make a tour of places of historic interests. There were 40 in the group, all of whom are now citizens. Another group will be on the Peninsula today.

Women Voters

How the League of Women Voters may help to strengthen the United Nations was an important part of the discussions at the national convention of the organization held in Kansas City, Missouri last week. This was the first national convention to meet since the government requested during the war that all avoidable travel be suspended, and conventions in particular be postponed until after hostilities ended. California sent eleven delegates to the meeting.

Other subjects of national interest on the agenda were how to strengthen the organization and procedures of the United States Congress, and what economic policies the League can support to insure maximum production and employment in our own country. Marriner Stoddard Eccles, chairman of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, was scheduled as principal speaker on the latter subject, with an open forum following the table.

Scout Camps Planned

Three separate camps for Peninsula senior Boy Scouts for May and June will be part of the summer program for Explorer, Sea and Air Scouts, it was announced this week by Robert Weaver, commissioner for this area.

A sea scout regatta will be at the Stanford Scout council base on June 1 and 2; an explorer scout expedition is scheduled for May 18 and 19 at Sleepy Hollow in Carmel Valley, and an air scout encampment will be held at Castle Field, Merced, from May 30 to June 2. Scouts participating in these events are required to be 15 years of age or over.

Sea Scout skipper for Carmel is Robert T. Van Ostrand.

Retreat at Mission

The ladies of San Carlos Mission are holding a one day retreat in honor of Mothers' Day. Reverend Joseph Stack, S. J., will be the director. A preliminary meeting at the mission Saturday evening at 7:30 p.m. will be followed by 8 o'clock mass Sunday morning. Breakfast will be served afterwards at Crispi Hall.

For reservations and further information telephone Carmel 784-J.

Mrs. Tocher Jr. Arrives

The British bride of William J. Tocher, J., the former Joan Embien of London, arrived in Carmel recently to join her husband. She made the Atlantic crossing on the Queen Mary.

The marriage of the young couple took place at St. Alban's Church, Teddington, on December 16, 1944, at which time the groom was on duty in the control tower of a bombing station.

When the groom entered the service three and a half years ago, he was studying at Davis. His present plans are undecided, but he may resume his college education this fall.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Tocher of Hatton Fields.

Concerning OUR NEW PLAN OF NYLON HOSIERY DISTRIBUTION

Until such a time as supply approximates demand, all hosiery will be sold in this manner.

To Have Holman's Reserve a Pair of
NYLON HOSIERY for You,
Please Follow Carefully these Steps—

- Address an Envelope and Mail to Holman's, enclosing a government post card addressed to yourself at your home.
- On the back of post card write the size of hosiery desired. Constructions, color, make and price will have to be left to chance.
- Envelopes must be postmarked not later than May 15th, 1946.

All cards will be numbered in the order of their receipt.

As shipments of Nylons are received your post card, stamped with an order number and validated by Holman's will be mailed to you. You will have ten days in which to present your card and buy your hosiery.

Your post card must be presented in our hosiery department when you make your purchase . . . the purchase of hose may be made only by the person to whom the card is addressed.

We do not know when you will receive your card because we do not know how many Nylons we will receive.

Be assured that you will receive your notice at the earliest possible date subject to receipt of shipments.

PLEASE NOTE:

For fair play and in order to provide an equitable distribution, we request that one card only be mailed by husband or wife . . . and that no orders be mailed to us by persons under 16 years of age.

Please do not send money with your order card.

Please do not phone to ask the progress of your order.

Exquisite Mother's Day cards... the WURZMANN TYPEWRITER EXCHANGE, 462 Alvarado Street in Monterey has a really large and beautiful selection... Stop and see WURZMANN'S boxes of gift stationery too. The unusual variety of color and design in fine writing paper make it possible to pick out a handsome and useful present that will be perfectly suited to Mother's own special needs and to her own very special personality.

Men! Really good news for you at DEREK RAYNE'S on Ocean here in Carmel... Corduroy sports jackets and matching slacks in a mellow cocoa brown shade. These are by the Manhattan Company and made of "Zephyroy," a Jullard fabric, which is washable, and Sanforized so you know they won't lose their shape or fit. Right for town, country or beach, here is an outfit that is good-looking, practical, adaptable—absolutely made to live in around Carmel.

Blouses for Mother, crisp and white with a splash of color in a lovely handpainted design just over the heart... one example of the many gift ideas at the SAVO GARRET SHOP, upstairs at Ocean and Monte Verde, where skillfully applied art work makes every item express your desire to find a clever, individual present. The blouses wash and iron so easily and the designs are permanent. Round or tailored necks. It's more than worthwhile to go up to the GARRET SHOP. You'll like Joan and George Savio.

Brand new... a wonderful place to eat. Harold and Miriam Brown have just opened THE CLOISTER ROOM in the Hotel La Ribera. They are serving three meals a day and are proud possessors of the only charcoal broiler in town, which is part of the secret of the wonderful broiled steaks, chops and fish. The other part is that gem of a chef, Raymond Garcia, who presides in the bright, spotless kitchen. The dining room is charming with its unusual shadow boxes filled with floral arrangements. Here is the perfect place for wedding banquets, receptions and club dinners or lunches but don't be afraid to come in casually in your slacks for informal meals... the atmosphere is friendly and just right. Take Mother to THE CLOISTER ROOM for dinner on Mother's Day... real home cooking and she can sit dressed in her best like a queen, never lifting a hand and no dishes to wash. Happy Mother's Day! Take time to drop into THE CLOISTER ROOM just once for breakfast, lunch or dinner and you'll be going there often.

HOWARD'S DRESS SHOP in Monterey can solve your Mother's Day problem for sure... Bags, stitched and pleated calfs, pigskins and patents, some colors, and whites for summer, a few of those precious alligators with soft suede linings... Handkerchiefs, real Irish linens, colorful prints and petit points... Slips and panties, tailored or lush with lace... Sweaters, classic or softly feminine styles... Blouses, whites—with delicate lace, colors—dark, light, bright, prints and stripes, smart and giddy at the same time, long sleeves, short sleeves, every type of neckline... Wonderful Esme of Paris spray perfume to make Mother forget she ever mopped a floor or made a bed... HOWARD'S always have style, quality, variety at such fair prices.

What would Mother's Day be without flowers?... on Dolores Street the MEL-O-DEE FLOWER SHOP will have an even greater variety than usual of cut flowers, peonies, rhododendrons and so many others, unusual colors and a big stock... Potted plants that will be lasting remembrances, red bell-like gloxinias, rare coral azaleas, ever-popular hydrangeas, orchid-like pelargoniums, velvety African daisies... Green house plants to dress up that bare corner or window... In the MEL-O-DEE patio nursery are hardy bedding plants if Mother is a gardener... Gay corsages made up just for her to suit the mood of the day... for instance, there's a new idea that has taken San Francisco and New York by storm, a spray of sweet little baby orchids—sometimes called butterfly orchids—Hollywood loves them too and they are devastating. Wonderful color combinations and loving care in gift wrapping.

Books to give Mother a lift or flatter her serious side... at THE VILLAGE BOOK SHOP just up Ocean from the Bank of Carmel, Edith Griffin has books for all tastes and from one dollar. "Wonderful Neighbor" by Homer Croy is light and gay. "Look Who's a Mother" by Margaret Fishback would be perfect for the new mama. Royce Brice's "Western World" is a fresh study of the forces shaping this part of the globe. Or cater to Mother's hobby, outdoor or indoor, THE VILLAGE BOOK SHOP will have just the right reference book for her... Open Sundays from two to six.

At TICE ELECTRICAL SHOP in Monterey I saw one of the new Harderfreez home freezers of improved design with its gleaming white cabinet and perfectly planned interior. 12 cubic feet are available for storage of a hundred frozen delicacies and all the makings for a lusty meal. It's a wonderful investment with its many advantages for the efficient home owner and, if you are renting a locker, you will find the monthly cost of operation of the Harderfreez is about the same as the rental of a locker just half the size.

FORTIER'S DRUG STORE has so many ideas for Mother... Candy, boxed chocolates, assorted hard candies and nuts in useful glass bowls and don't forget those wonderful mirrored candy boxes designed for holding Kleenex when emptied... Dusting powder, sweet Parma Violet de heriot, or choose any of her favorite fragrances... Smart makeup kits camouflaged as bags... Shining Jewellite mirrors and lasting Pro-phy-lac-tic brushes for her dressing table... Soaps, colognes, stationery, compacts, gleaming strands of pearls, compacts... Perfumes, for example. Mother is a saint but compliment her woman-of-the-world tendencies too with Adrian's two-faced "Saint and Sinner" perfume—or cologne... And a marvelous selection of cards for Mother's Day at FORTIER'S too.

Whistler's mothers are few and far between these days for today's Mom is alert and modern regardless of her age—or shape! At the MARIANNA SHOP in Monterey they keep this in mind and have a whole bevy of dresses for Mother in smart junior sizes and miraculously youthful larger sizes, including half sizes... Young hats too, from an enticing open-crowned circlet of flowers and veiling to a perky white straw with a tiny, sophisticated bit of a black veil... Bags, colorful, handmade yarn envelopes to match her favorite outfit and crisp, long-wearing plastic coated yarn bags of "Plexon"... Hankies... Blouses, from wool jersey to sheer black with minute colored flowers and a wonderful soft gray in rayon jersey... Jewelry, including some heavy silver bracelets that are beyond description.

If Mother likes pins, go to JOYCE'S JEWELRY SHOP on Ocean... silver, gold with earrings to match, there's a really astounding array. Daggers, crowns, sailing ships, animals, dolphins, lizards, turtles, foxes, horses, deer... a skillfully-wrought gondola... two amusing silver bees with a connecting chain. Silver and gold-topped combs for gray, blond or brown hair... redheads too. Distinctive jewelry to charm the heart.

The NB FLOWER SHOP in the Seven Arts Court suggests potted flowering plants that Mother can transplant to her garden... or if you are going to take her out for a festive celebration, give her a soul-satisfying corsage to wear with her best dress. Lily of the valley makes a dainty, springlike spray for her shoulder that's as sweet as Mother herself. Anthurium, an exotic, tropical flower can be fashioned into a corsage so smart and different that she'll be honestly thrilled... the color and shape of this flower has to be seen to be appreciated. Virginia Nielson and Gloria Brammer are so pleasant and thoughtful and they have some wonderful new ribbons to work with... you'll be delighted.

Heavenly Parfait scented satin hangers, sachets, cologne and powder sets, body powder mitts and soap or bubble bath, velour powder puffs in smart cellophane containers... THE PIONEER next to the Post Office has all these suggestions for your best girl, Mother. Handkerchiefs and other smart little items too. Very special 100% wool flannel brunch coats, soft and pastel, well-tailored too. Useful and luxurious at the same time... she'll love one.

Don't forget the youngsters... HELEN'S JUVENILE SHOP on Ocean has cowboy and cowgirl outfits, sizes 2 and up, which are really little knockouts. Skirts or chaps and vests made of soft leather in black and white, brown and white with red trim, brown and light blue or neutral and brown... they're darling... Also cute overalls and jacket suits in blue and (Continued on page 14) white Indianhead material, from size 2. These suits have the California Children's Wear trademark . . . Just looking at the selection of tiny sunsuits makes you want to buy them all . . . With all the well-deserved to-do about Mother this week don't overlook the children or baby. HELEN'S has the very best in baby gifts.

Sweaters and blouses for Mother whether she's dignified, feminine or dramatic . . . you'll love these yourself and they are at THE COUNTRY SHOP. Rafts of new sweaters, in new colors, cardigans and slippers and, of course, they're all wool. To top it off they're full-fashioned and hand-finished. There is one cardigan that will be perfect for Mother . . . it is boucle and styled to suit any type of figure without sacrificing one iota of smartness. Be sure to see the shetlands too . . . And the blouses . . . soft, white, frilly ones, pastels and odd shades as well as good browns, grays and blues. Raw silks and jerseys, even meshes. Short, long or cap sleeves. Prints . . . one little cape — sleeved blouse with startling chartreuse, black and white figures . . . put this with a black skirt and it makes a stunning dress. Every blouse at THE COUNTRY SHOP has quality lines and you can be sure of the workmanship and detail.

How about a huge glass vase for those Mother's Day flowers? . . . THE DISCOVERY SHOP on Dolores has all shapes and sizes. Or a lamp to stand beside her chair, one of those with the beautiful ingrained oak stands and colored modern shades by Herfitz. Mother would feel the great lady pouring wine from a deep red, beautifully-etched decanter or bottle with delicate matching glasses. She'd love a Eugene White heavy pottery breakfast or lunch set . . . marvelous for garden eating. If you buy her Native Craft silver combs, earrings or a pin she will have jewelry that won't be duplicated on every passerby. THE DISCOVERY SHOP is always replete with different ideas.

Compacts . . . so many and so lovely at MERLE'S TREASURE CHEST. Precious metal is back. Alone or in silver or gold combined with transparent or black lucite, it makes us realize what we've been missing. One lovely silver heart adorned with a tiny gold heart would be just right for Mother. Leather compacts too, dusted with gold or plain and beautiful, a gray one to go with your spring suit. Square, round, simple, ornate, initialed, mother-of-pearl, petit point, spring birds and flowers on metal. Be sure to see the one with the blackamoor. Cigarette cases to match them all if you desire.

THE POKE ABOUT NOOK has a monogram machine! . . . From now on they will monogram any paper item in their stock exactly as you specify . . . Napkins, match folders, stationery. They have an adequate supply now but are expecting more in the near future. Here is a really welcome service available up on Ocean Avenue. Don't forget to go in for Mother's Day jewelry, vases and other gifts too. It's fun to poke about at THE POKE ABOUT NOOK.

Though there was another record crowd at the beach Sunday—287 cars parked at Del Mar and Ocean—no petty thefts were reported to Carmel Police Department. There was one case of a parked car being broken into at Seventeenth and Scenic, outside the city limits and the jurisdiction of the plain clothes man who is patrolling the beach during the summer months.

Mrs. V. Skillman Chosen President Of Woman's Club

By KATHRYN LANSLOWNE

A spirit of unity and good fellowship prevailed at the meeting for members only at the Carmel Woman's Club on Monday. The president, Mrs. Alton Walker, presided, and a box luncheon preceded the program.

Mrs. H. S. Upjohn opened the meeting by conducting the annual disposal of club books by auction, the funds obtained to be used for the purchase of new books, to which each member has access.

Mrs. Helen Cranston as first vice-president and program chairman reviewed the programs presented at the general meetings, calling attention to the difficulties encountered by last-minute substitutions, all of which turned out to be highly successful. Mrs. Upjohn also reported on the programs for the Book Section, which were diversified and most successfully planned and carried out.

Mrs. Vern Skillman, second vice president and membership chairman, read an expressive account of the increase in membership, reviewing many reasons why, during the past year, more than 100 new members were added to the club's roster.

Miss Amy Comins, treasurer, was not in attendance, but her very complete report was read by Mrs. Saxton Pope, who, as building fund chairman, added a comprehensive report on the club's financial standing.

Miss Flora Hartwell spoke of the success of the recent flower show and presented the club with a surprise package of a $100 Victory Bond, obtained by the sale of flowers used in decorating tea tables for the meetings of the various sections.

Mrs. Alton Walker, the retiring president, thanked the members of the board and the club membership for their enthusiastic support and the confidence placed in her to head this very popular and fast-growing organization. Perhaps most significant is her sincerity and that rare quality of an inspiring personality.

Mrs. Cranston proposed a rising vote of thanks to Mrs. Walker for her gracious leadership.

Mrs. William Heathorne as chairman of the nominating committee, assisted by Mrs. Irene de Galler and Miss Amy Campbell, submitted the following members to serve as board of directors, and the club vote for the panel was unanimous.

Newly elected officers of the Club are:

President, Mrs. Verne Skillman; First Vice President and Program Chairman, Mrs. A. B. Pierce; Second Vice President and Membership Chairman, Mrs. Kathryn Lansdowne; Treasurer, Miss Amy Comins; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Sam Coleman; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Anne Knox; Hospitality Chairman, Mrs. W. H. Satchell; Bridge Section Chairman, Mrs. Annie Vaughan; Garden Section Chairman, Miss Flora Hartwell; Book Section Chairman, Mrs. H. S. Upjohn; Revisions Chairman, Mrs. Saxton Pope; Publicity Chairman, Mrs. Helen C. Cranston; Librarian, Mrs. Edith Catlin; Garden Section, To be announced.

Student Council Raises Question Of Life-Saving

some more talking to explain why there is no life saving equipment at the beach. He pointed out that if there were, there would also have to be a crew of experts to handle it, and the moment the city provided life guards, it would become responsible legally for any deaths that might occur from drowning. Short of providing a boat and crew to patrol off shore, the city could not make swimming in Carmel bay safe. The city was not in a position to assume responsibility for so dangerous a beach.

"I think the city should be responsible," Ann Hodgson said from the floor. "People come here because of the beach. They buy from the local merchants. If a life saving boat is what is needed, I think the city should provide it."

Other business of the student council meeting was the passing of a resolution proposed by Police Commissioner Tom Hefling and drawn up by City Attorney Martin Irwin to mark the truck route with reflectors. Street Commissioner Don Appleton suggested that the stop sign at the intersection of Mission and Ocean Avenue, knocked down many months ago by a truck, be replaced. There were also reminders that the tourists are scattering their picnic lunch remains on the beach and that the streets, especially Junipero, could do with a little improvement.

The senior members assured that all these things would be taken care of in time.

There always has to be one member of the city council who sits tight and lets the others talk. On the student council, he was Don Adams, fire commissioner. Pamela Dormody was a thoroughly satisfactory city clerk, charming to look at, and she didn't inflict the city council with a single letter from the League of California Cities.

Following the student meeting the regular council sat in a long lengthy session, disposing of a number of routine matters. It voted to raise City Clerk Peter Mawdsley's salary from $175 to $250 per month on the recommendation of Mayor Godwin, who said that Mawdsley is doing the work of a city manager as well as a city clerk. It also decided to equify the city business license fees. Mayor Godwin and the city clerk are to act as a committee to work out a schedule to present at an adjourned meeting, to be held May 29.

Careless Smokers Cause Two Fires

Two fires, thought to have been started by carelessly-tossed cigarettes, were extinguished by the forestry service fire department on Sunday.

The first, at Wrangler's Road, Pebble Beach, burned about one quarter of an acre, while the other, in the Laureles tract in Carmel Valley, burned about three-tenths of an acre. The latter was in a location used by fishermen on their way to the river.

Officials again warned fishermen, hunters, horseback riders and motorists of the dangers involved in throwing cigarettes in the hazardous dry area.
